

The NALFA seal of approval.
Or to the trained eye... a deal-closer.

The bottom line is that the NALFA seal sells.
At the North American Laminate Flooring Association, we understand that customers not only want quality, they buy it. We work with the best in the industry to determine and implement the highest standards for testing and production in laminate flooring today. And we make it easy for you to let consumers know which floors passed the test. It's good for you, your customers and your bottom line. Visit us at www.nalfa.com and let us help you seal the deal.
